

Subject: CPC CyberFlash
From: "Director CPC" <Director.CPC@noaa.gov>
Date: Tue, 15 Mar 2005 07:14:06 -0500

From the Director's Desk

Please submit all suggestions or recommendations for the new Officer Evaluation Report (OER) to AOC or MOCA or MOCP by the end of the week. All other officers may send their comments directly to their Line Office liaison officer. Center directors and liaisons should forward those comments to CPC. CPC will review all comments and incorporate those deemed appropriate and distribute the revised OER one more time to all officers. After a two week review period, CPC will incorporate those changes and then present the new OER to RADM De Bow and RADM Behn for their review and comment. We hope to have the new OER available by June 1, 2005 for the six month evaluations.

Captain Jonathan W. Bailey, NOAA
Director, Commissioned Personnel Center

BOTC 107

The officers of NOAA's 107th Basic Officer Training Class finished their orientation in Silver Spring last week and have arrived in Kings Point, New York to begin fifteen weeks of training at the U.S. Merchant Marine Academy. The class consists of the following:

Madeleine Adler, BS in Environmental Studies from Bucknell University, Masters in Atmospheric Science from the University of Wyoming
Carol Arsenault, BS in Zoology from the University of New Hampshire
James Brinkley, BS in Meteorology from the University of Oklahoma
John Christensen, BS in Applied Meteorology from Embry Riddle University
Sean Finney, BS in Earth Science from California State University - Monterey
Melissa Ford, BS in Oceanography from the US Naval Academy, Masters in Environmental Health from Old Dominion University
Laurel Jennings, BA in Zoology from the University of Texas-Austin
Guinevere Lewis, BS in Earth Systems Science from California State University - Monterey
Allison Martin, BS in Recreation, Parks and Tourism from the University of Florida
Jason Saxe, BS in Biology from George Washington University
Paul Smidansky, BS in Meteorology from Pennsylvania State University
David Strauz, BS in Bio Systems Engineering from Washington State University
Rebecca Waddington, BS in Meteorology from San Jose State University
Jamie Wasser, BA in Mathematics from St. Mary's College

PROMOTIONS

Congratulations to Cecile Daniels who was promoted to Lieutenant Commander on February 14, 2005. Eighteen additional vacancies became available on March 2, 2005. A promotion package has been forwarded to the Secretary who will sign the commissions to effect those promotions.

This message was generated for the Director of Commissioned Personnel